
Something must be done. This General Assembly must set aside its partisanship in this particular field. We must do that if we are to survive under the load that is being heaped upon the shoulders of the taxpayers of this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, no man in this Senate wants to see any citizen of this Commonwealth go without food or shelter or clothing, but no member of this Senate wants to set up upon the body politic a scavenger such as this, that will destroy the very foundations of our government. We must do something. We must do it in conjunction or we must do it as an individual party. I am not going to condemn the present administration for this great evil that has crept upon us, because I do not think any particular administration is guilty in this matter. I think we members of the General Assembly are more to blame than the executive heads of the government because we have allowed a certain group of favored citizens to take charge of a department of state and make it into a private happy hunting ground for a certain group of citizens.

Mr. President and members of this Senate of Pennsylvania, although I am requesting every member of the Senate that belongs to my caucus to vote for this appropriation, If I were to return to the Senate again I will never vote again for a blanket appropriation such as this, unless this department is reorganized or abolished.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, some time ago the gentleman from Westmoreland raised many of the questions concerning which he has spoken about this afternoon, and I merely want to say, very briefly, several things in connection with his remarks.

I think the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania finds itself in the same position in this respect and on this subject that many other states do, and when he roundly condemns the practices and the methods of administration of this department, one thing to bear in mind is that we became necessarily subjected in a large degree to federal regulation which is imposed upon us in order that we may become the recipient in Pennsylvania of federal funds.

I think, if I recall the record accurately, years ago when this matter of relief was placed entirely at the state level, there were remarks made on the floor of this Senate then that this would be an octopus which would rise up and devour us.

Now we are faced with the situation where we have this matter of relief at the state level entirely. There is a grave and serious question, and it has been a persistent question, as to whether or not that ought to continue and there is the question as to whether or not, as it was then stated, this matter of relief should not have not be faced with this situation appearing to be one over which there is entirely no control, and in order that the record may accurately reflect what the situation is, I have secured some information which I think will be enlightening on the subject.

However, for the sake of the record and so that we may been kept at least partially at the local level.

I am advised, Mr. President, that in the period 1938-1939, for instance, the cost of the Auditor General was approximately four cents per case which was then on the public assistance rolls; as of April of this year that cost has been increased to ten cents per case. That reflects an increase in cost of approximately one hundred-fifty percent.

Mr. President, I just want to say, so that there may be no misunderstanding, I am not reflecting on anyone's ability to do the job nor upon the method by which they do it—and I say that specifically about the Auditor General—but I think the increase in the Auditor General's costs reflect exactly what every department of the state government is faced with, that there are increased costs in salaries, reflected in the raises which were given to the people working in those departments over the last several years and another increased cost, which will be reflected in increased salaries which are contemplated to come about at the beginning of this next biennium. Mr. President, I think that picture reflects itself generally in this entire situation.

I understand, Mr. President, and am advised that the costs of the State Treasurer have remained rather constant at roughly thirty cents per case.

One point the gentleman from Westmoreland fails to call attention to in this matter of costs, and so long as we are going to have it at the state level, it seems to me an unalterable condition, is that a great portion of this cost, which he translates into active cases, must necessarily reflect the burden of cost which comes out of the many cases investigated but which do not receive any aid, and therefore it seems to me it is not quite fair to translate, or attempt to translate the entire cost as being applicable to those cases which actually receive aid and are reflected as being cases on the rolls of the department.

So far as the actual cost is concerned in the number of cases handled, I am advised that in the years 1938-1939 the cost was a little bit less than $3 per case, and at the present time, that is, as of April of this year, it was a little over $4 per case.

Mr. President, I suggest on the broad basis of applying the entire cost over the entire operation of the department, including the many cases that have been investigated and which receive no aid, it is not a cost which reflects either overindulgence on the part of the department nor a lack of care in the management of the department.

Mr. President, I merely want to place these matters on the record so that we can be clear in our approach to this situation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, advice has come to the members of the Senate this afternoon that the distinguished Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, a very great soldier and fine citizen, has been elevated to command the justly famous 28th Division.

Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now advise and consent to the advancement of Lieutenant-Governor Strickler to Commanding Officer of the 28th Division.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to second that motion. I might say that if I would have had my way last year, the Chair would have had more time for the job as Commander of the 28th Division.

However, I want to join with all his well wishers and also state that he can handle both jobs ably, conscientiously and well.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair appreciates very much this recognition on behalf of the members of the Senate. I know of no group that I hold in higher esteem than you gentlemen.

I do want to say to you that I have been long engaged in the soldiering game—it was thirty-one years ago when I entered the 28th Division as a private, and I have come up from the ranks and served in two wars and in the last war I commanded the 109 Infantry part of the time in combat, and I commanded the 110th Infantry part of the time in combat and have acted as Assistant Division Commander, and now Division Commander.

I appreciate the honor the Commonwealth has bestowed upon me in appointing me to this position of Commander of the 28th Division.

I hope, gentlemen, this summer when we go into encampment at Indiantown Gap, that you gentlemen will come out and visit us and we will show you there how we operate.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the majority floor leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TALLMAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, will the majority floor leader tell me why he is putting this bill over in its order.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I have been requested that Senate Bill No. 792 go over in its order by members of the Republican caucus, because they wanted some opportunity to study the bill and because the bill was not on our desks in our caucus and not available to us.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I had it on my desk today at one o'clock

I can appreciate the fact that they have not had opportunity to study the bill as it is but, frankly, this matter has been advertised and publicized now for the last week or two in various papers.

However, Mr. President, unfortunately it has come to pass that certain manufacturers and dealers are trying to block progress of this bill. I see no harm in this bill passing second reading and going over to third reading, where it can be discussed at length and if anything in it needs to be amended, the amendments can be made on third reading.

This bill has been prepared at my request and at the request of the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn, it has been put in proper form by the Attorney General to meet every constitutional objection, to prevent the unsuspecting public from being imposed upon by unscrupulous dealers.

It seems to me now, Mr. President, that the manufacturers are coming into the picture and hence I take it are conspiring with these unscrupulous dealers to charge prices over and above list prices.

Everybody is familiar with this bill. There are many members of this Senate who have been imposed upon and taken advantage of and they are ready to vote for this bill.

There is no need to study this bill. We know what it is. We have read about it in the papers, and so we can very well pass it on second reading, leave it go on third reading, and if there is any need for amendments to clarify the language I am perfectly satisfied.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia object to the bill going over in its order.

Mr. JASPAN. Yes.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Jaspan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JASPAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he recalls the date this bill was introduced into the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. Yes, Mr. President, on Monday of this week.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, this is Wednesday of this week and this bill was immediately reported out of the Committee on Judiciary General and now is on the second reading calendar, which is almost as prompt action as a bill could get under ordinary legislative procedure. There is no attempt on the part of this side to delay action on this bill or to play ducks and drakes with the manufacturers, or with any other people that are involved perhaps in the mechanical end of the bill, but, due to the fact that when we discussed the bill in the Republican caucus, copies of this bill were not available, there are many people who are interested in the bill and would like a chance to read it. The sponsors of the bill may know what is in it but at least members of the Senate have a right to be permitted to read the bill.

Mr. President, I do not think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Jaspan, has any right to suggest we are delaying action on this bill, because within two days after this bill was introduced it appears on the second reading calendar. I think the gentleman from Philadelphia has secured action on this bill that ought to satisfy him and I do not think it is quite fair to object to the bill going over in its order, so as to give the members of the Senate a chance to read the bill and satisfy themselves as to what is in it. We appreciate the fact that the sponsors read the bill.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, in answer to the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, let me say we could pass this bill on second reading and put it on third reading and leave it remain there until tomorrow, Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, and still give them an opportunity to read the bill. However, unfortunately in the last few days there have come to the front lobbies, representing both the manufacturers and the used car dealers, doing all they possibly can to block passage of this bill and, as to putting it over, certainly we should not listen to them or pay attention to them. We feel that advantage has been taken of the people long enough and it is high time that something which has been prepared by the Attorney-General, backed by him, introduced by him, should be passed on second reading and certainly put on third reading, where it can remain until such time as those who are not familiar with the bill can read it.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, happening to be one of those who question what is being done as much as anyone and happening to be one who today in committee, as will be verified, called attention to the fact that this bill was not before us and called attention to the fact that the more haste the less speed, I resent the implication by the distinguished Senator from Philadelphia that somebody has seen us and that there are people and that there are influences, and feeling that perhaps more than any other man and for reasons of my own, not because somebody saw me, I asked to have this bill go over and very kindly the other members of the caucus today protected my action in this Senate.

I feel it is my duty to say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that it might have been better to have asked the different members of the Senate whether they had been seen, rather than indicate it, and therefore I ask now that the gentleman from Philadelphia extend the same courtesy to me that I would extend to him if he asked that a bill go over upon a reading, a reading upon which it is proper and right to introduce amendments when you think it is necessary.

I say this, that I am willing to stay here tonight, I am willing to stay tomorrow, I am willing to keep coming here—I have missed no meetings except the one day in which I met with serious injuries—and I do say now, not with a feeling of resentment, because this gentleman has my respect and I know he is in earnest, but it is not just real nice to accuse men who are trying to do their duty, to do this work and trying to protect a fellow Senator who asked that the bill go over in order.

Mr. President, I now call upon Senator Jaspan, as a special favor to the Senator from Jefferson, to allow this bill to go over in its order until I can read it. It was just placed on my desk a few minutes ago.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, in view of the request made by the Senator from Jefferson, I will withdraw my objection.

However, let me say one thing: there has been too much interference with this bill by both the dealers and the manufacturers and they are moving heaven and earth to block passage this bill.

I am very glad to go along with the request of the gentleman from Jefferson but mark my word, Mr. President, they are going to move heaven and earth within the next few days to see that this bill is defeated or that it goes back to committee.

Mr. WILSON. Just one word, Mr. President. I want to thank the Senator from Philadelphia and call attention to the fact that if any of those people who are moving heaven and earth, either for or against this bill, come to see me, I think the Senate knows about how they will be received. Thank you.

The PRESIDENT. Objection having been withdrawn, the bill will go over in its order.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, if it is any comfort to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, I also had a bill that was introduced Monday afternoon and the second day after that finds this bill on the second reading calendar. My bill also has been interfered with and I am under a mandate from my caucus to move that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General, while his bill remains on second reading.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. FISS and YESTER offered amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been informed that there has been an agreement between the Majority and Minority Leaders to consider the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Yester, before considering the amendments offered by the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss. The Chair would like to carry out that agreement. He will therefore request the Clerk to read the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Yester, to Section 2.

The Clerk read the amendments offered by Mr. YESTER to section 2 as follows:

Amend sec. 2 (Sec. 10), page 10, line 7, by striking out the bracket and words "Twelve million".

Amend sec. 2 (Sec. 10), page 10, line 7, by inserting a bracket after the word "dollars" and inserting immediately thereafter "One-half cent of each cent per gallon or fractional part thereof of the additional tax collected under the provisions of this act".

Amend sec. 2 (Sec. 10), page 10, line 14, by striking out the bracket and words "Twelve million".

Amend sec. 2 (Sec. 10), page 10, line 14, by inserting a bracket after the word "dollars" and inserting immediately thereafter "One-half cent of each cent per gallon or fractional part thereof of the additional tax collected under the provisions of this act".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, this amendment that I have offered is absolutely very important to your community. It means that they will have returned to them from the gasoline tax the whole cent. It means that it is going to protect the home owners and the property owners. Under conditions the way they are now it looks as though there isn't going to be much returned to the communities. Each one of you represents your own community. It is not a question of representing the state; it is up to you to see that your community gets enough of this gasoline tax money back to take care of their roads. Under the present conditions they do not receive enough. This one cent gasoline tax will return to the state seventeen million five hundred thousand dollars every year. Now they want to offer you ten million dollars.

I am asking the Members of this House to think of your own community back home and your property owners, protect them and vote for my amendments.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, it is all well and good, and I know that we would all like to see just as much money returned to the political subdivisions as is possible, but there is also a third party interested, where we also depend upon them to maintain, reconstruct and build our main highways in Pennsylvania. Over the period of war years the Department of Highways in Pennsylvania had struggled under adverse conditions. Now then, if we were to attempt to adopt the amendments of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Yester, we would only be crippling the work which is so badly needed for a complete and efficient road system in Pennsylvania.

I ask the Members of this House to consider that thoughtfully, and since we have practically agreed that there is a way that will serve all of the political subdivisions in Pennsylvania as well as the Highway Department, I ask the Membership of this House to vote down these amendments.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when it was announced that the majority party was going to caucus on this particular bill, perhaps I had in mind to say that I have been conscious for some time that the members of the majority were voting their confusion much more enthusiastically than they appeared to be voting their convictions, but I hoped that as a result of this caucus that they held the light of reason would begin to dawn.

We have this particular bill which would curtail the amount sent back to the various local political subdivisions. That is what we carry in our right hand. On the calendar as reported today from committee is another bill, which we hold in our left hand, and say that the local communities are privileged to increase their taxes, you are destitute, you need assistance, so we will broaden your tax base. That is a strange situation for a deliberative body to find itself in. You say to the cities and to the townships, "You need more money, so we will broaden your tax base." "All right," do we say, "We have a little more money in the one cent emergency gas tax, so we will give you some". No, no, we want some of that for the Commonwealth to minister to what the gentleman has just said is a complete and efficient highway program for Pennsylvania."

Now, members of the House, while we have to vote for measures of this kind because it is the only kind of a measure we have on which to vote, I want to call your attention to the fact that this bill is not a contribution to any of the fundamental and basic problems with which this Commonwealth is confronted in connection with its highway system. It is just some more patch work legislation. We have an expanding highway system, expanding construction costs, expanding maintenance cost, and we have no plan. We have no plan of development to which to attach any revenue that will be raised under this bill and which will accrue to the Commonwealth. We might just as well have, so far as the permanent needs of the highways of this Commonwealth are concerned, divided this penny equally between the local subdivisions as to hand twelve million dollars to any one bracket and twelve million dollars to another bracket and a small amount to the Commonwealth.

Under the circumstances and in view of what we admit is the financial plight with which the political subdivisions are confronted, and which we admit in House Bill 800, I submit to you that under the circumstances the logical and sensible thing is to say, "Here is the penny, half of it for the cities and half for the townships."

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, it is of course true that we are living in times that are more or less uncertain, and that is one reason why the bill only extends for two years. We hope that we will pass over this reconstruction period and come to the time when everything will be sane and sensible. But after all the gentleman would have you tear down the structure and undermine the very foundation of all our highway system by taking out of the Highway Department completely and kicking out the foundations from the very structure itself. So that doesn't make sense. I again repeat that under the conditions in which we are living now and working that we should vote down these amendments.

Mr. YESTER. Mr. Speaker, according to representative Fiss you would think that the Highway Department is going to be without any funds. This is only one penny. They collect four pennies and give one and one-half pennies back to the counties and they still have two and a half pennies. On the one penny this year it will bring over $17,500,000. So how do you figure that the Highway Department won't have enough money to spend?

Mr. COLE. Mr. Speaker, it has been my understanding that the State Highway Department intends to turn back to the political subdivisions many thousands of miles of road that they now have. Because those roads are going to be placed on the political subdivisions back home the result is going to be that the political subdivisions back home are going to need some money. So I urge the Members of this House to vote in support of these amendments.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, I only wish to correct a statement that I am sure is not altogether correct, because I am certain that there is no intention on the part of the Highway Department or anyone else to turn miles and miles or thousands of miles of road back to the political subdivisions. There is no intent to do that.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Snyder permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FISS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman assure this House from his knowledge of the discussions of the highway problem that it has not been seriously urged by very important persons that a very considerable portion of the highway mileage that was indiscriminately taken over by the Commonwealth was not progressively to be surrendered back to the political subdivisions?

Mr. FISS. I cannot answer that question from any official standing at all. I will simply say to the gentleman that it has never been according to my knowledge discussed with any official authority, and I doubt, dealing with the other bill, the Omnibus Bill, and in connection with the representative of the Secretary of Highways, I would say personally that that is certainly not the intention of this department at this time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I simply desire to write into the record the prophesy or the statement that it is the intention of the Highway Department to surrender a considerable amount of the mileage which the State unwisely took over.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, I am sure the gentleman from Cambria as well as every other member of this House would have the opportunity to vote on a question of that kind, as it could not be done without some statute law.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Snyder permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FISS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman explain to the House how much money would be saved for the Highway Department under this amendment.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, that would be a question that no one could answer in full because we don't know exactly what the receipts would be in the next biennium.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman explain to the House what the difference in dollars would be in regard to the money now which is in the bill and the change under the amendment?

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, the present law is eight million five hundred thousand dollars for second class townships, eight million five hundred thousand dollars for first class townships, boroughs and cities. The amendments simply do this. They increase the amount from eight million five hundred thousand dollars to ten million dollars in each case.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman say that the original act, before his amendments, was twelve million dollars?

Mr. FISS. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. The amendment, Mr. Speaker, that the gentleman has offered has reduced it to ten million dollars?

Mr. FISS. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker I would like the gentleman to state the difference between the present bill and the amendment.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, I said that exactly. I gave the gentleman a complete answer. The bill calls for twelve million and the amendment calls for ten million.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, that difference in dollars and cents would be two million dollars. Is that correct?

Mr. FISS. If I am able to add and subtract, Mr. Speaker, that is also correct.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman explain how much good this change will do in revenues to the Highway Department.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, the Highway Department has no other law other than the present act, and of course if you would take it under the present status the Highway Department would be losing.

Mr. LOVETT. But under the amendment, Mr. Speaker, the Highway would gain. Is that correct?

Mr. FISS. The Highway would gain slightly, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, the point I want to make is that the gain is so slight that I question whether or not the Members of the House will take that gain away from the municipalities and give it to the Highway Department. I think you should be fair in at least that amount to the local municipalities.

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, I only want to say that certainly one million and a half dollars to every political subdivision of Pennsylvania, townships, boroughs and cities, is not very small.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Snyder permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FISS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Westmoreland asked a question which I think should be answered on the floor of the House. On the basis of collections in 1946 what did the penny gas tax yield in the year 1946 or in the biennium? I prefer the figures for 1946.

Mr. FISS. Approximately seventeen million dollars for one year, thirty-four million dollars for the biennium.

Mr. ANDREWS. That is right. Then this bill makes a difference between the local political subdivisions and the Commonwealth of twenty million dollars, as against at least thirty-six million dollars. Under this bill the Commonwealth will get sixteen million dollars, is that right or fourteen or twelve?

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is referring to something else. My comparisons were under the present law when I answered the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Lovett.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the difference as to what the political subdivisions would receive under the amendment as proposed by the gentleman from Westmoreland, and the bill, as you say, the difference so far as the political subdivisions are concerned, is at least in excess of twelve million dollars, is it not, for the biennium?

Mr. FISS. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Yester, would mean approximately that amount. I would say that is a very close estimate.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very much. I think that is a figure that should have been read into the record.

On the question recurring,

BILL POSTPONED

There being no objection,

Senate Bill No. 478, Printer's No. 244, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. LAUGHNER from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 246, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission for the commission's share of the cost of paving a certain street on which abuts certain historical sites owned by the Commonwealth.

BILL ON FIRST READING

The following bill was read the first time pursuant to a resolution adopted May 27, 1947.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 246, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission for the commission's share of the cost of paving a certain street on which abuts certain historical sites owned by the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HEWITT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, about this period in every session most of the Members become rather worried about the bills that they have reposing in various committees in the House, and I would like to explain to the House my record as a legislator as far as bills are concerned.

In the 1941 session when the Democrats were in power I had one bill that was let out of committee and passed this House and passed the Senate and was vetoed by the Governor.

In the 1943 session I had another bill reported from committee. It passed the House and died in the Senate. Another bill came out that session,—rather was to come out that session but didn't. I want to say this to explain my situation, that I have a very bad record. All of these bills were simple bills introduced by simple Members. The committee chairman said he was calling a mass meeting and he would have the bill agreed to. It happened that when he had the committee meeting he lost the bill, and I was pretty sore at this fellow. So when I lost the bill yesterday I knew how you feel when you have a bill lost.

A few days later a fellow Member came to look my bill over and said he would see what he could do about it. In the meantime we passed the Township Code in the House by a vote of 202-0. In the meantime this report was discovered and he talked to Cappy Thompson that Section 702 would take care of my proposition, and therefore, Mr. Foor said that was correct. When the bill went to the Senate it was defeated in the Senate after it had passed in the House by 202 votes, it lost in the Senate 49 to nothing.

So I went to Mr. Foor again and got him to take notes on page 8 of today's calendar, House Bill 1113, Printer's No. 734, and that's about the first time that my name is on the calendar since Governor Martin "geebooded" all the bills.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I just want to say in view of the gentleman's voting record, particularly on bills emanating from this side of the House, in view of his general voting record, it is a mighty good thing that he did not get other bills on the calendar.

THURSDAY, May 29, 1947

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, prayer was offered by the Senator from Berks, Dr. RUTH.

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this opportunity which Thou hast given us to serve Thee and our fellowman again. We thank Thee for Thy great love which Thou hast exhibited towards us in giving us life and liberty and opportunity, and as we turn our footsteps tomorrow to the sacred resting places of our beloved dead who made their great sacrifices, and the love which they gave us while living, inspire us that in our time we shall give the best that we have too, for those who are to follow after us. We thank Thee for those of our citizens who have gone forth to battle for our liberties and safety and have laid down their lives, and as their graves may be in distant parts of this earth, may our memories even go there and may we appreciate more fully what they have done for us.

And so use us in all the days ahead to do Thy will and to be a blessing unto our fellowmen. We ask it in Thy Holy Name. Amen!

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, no one is more sympathetic than myself with the aspirations of the gentleman of the press to cover the news of this General Assembly. In my opinion it is perfectly proper for Chairman of Committees from time to time to release such information as they may deem proper to release. However, when the Chairmen of Committees of either House are definitely charged, either by direct order or by implication, to conduct negotiations and arrive at commitments which are presumably binding upon the membership of the House and the General Assembly as a whole, I believe it would be more fitting if at least concurrently with the release of the final decisions arrived at and concurrently with the release to the press, the Members of this House who are presumably involved and committed to the decisions arrived at, should also be informed. In short, Mr. Speaker, I think it is proper to request and also proper to insist that the Members of this House, when releases are made that involve binding commitments, that the press be informed through a release with which the Members of this House are acquainted.

MEMBERS THANKED

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to take this opportunity to thank the Members for having an early breakfast and being here at this early hour.
